Q. About two years ago I lost my sense of smell. Can you tell me the possible cause of this? What would e the method of curing it?

A. It is not possible to say definitely what may have caused the loss of your sense of smell. Cne of the commonest causes is a chorn'c nasa! catarrh; especially that form known as atrophic rhinitis. In this form, there is practically no trouble in breathing, so that a marked destruction and atrophy of

"Growing Pains"

When you were a "kid" at just about the "awkward age," do you remember how your muscles used to ache, and how uncomfortable you felt because of it? When you complained about these pains your mother explained to you that they were "growing pains," and you suffered them because of the fact that you were growing so rapidly.

The building activities and remodeling which are now going on in our banking quarters are the "growing pains" that we are obliged to put up with because of our rapid growth and development. It's mighty inconvenient for both us and our customers to do business in temporary quarters, and we are looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to the day when we shall open up our new banking rooms which will be the largest and finest of any in the Southwest.

In the meantime remember that we are doing the very best we can to care for the needs of our patrons, and with your assistance no great amount of inconvenience will be experienced.
